

My name is Skye and I teach Maths and English to the Secondary Alternative Provision Students at Foxglove Wellbeing Academy, based at Hartwell Riding Stables, and this half term I will be introducing them to learning Poetry.

One of our values at FWA is 'Opportunity', and 3 of my students have written their own Christmas poems.

What Christmas Means to Me: Written by a Learner at Foxglove Wellbeing Academy

Tasty food
Taking long to bake
I hope my grandma makes
Her famous cake.
Giving and receiving
Opening my stocking
Presents all around
The kids come flocking.
Spending time with your loved ones
Is the best thing ever
I wish I could keep this moment
Now and forever

Christmas Joy: Written by Meadow, a Learner at Foxglove Wellbeing Academy

The bells I hear each year
The ones met with a cheer
Singing carols in all weathers
Writing letters with feathers
Santa is here
On his reindeer
Merry Christmas to you
And all your crew

Christmas Lights: Written by a Learner at Foxglove Wellbeing Academy

Christmas lights shine so bright
They make the dark feel like daylight
Red, green and gold glow in the night
Filling my heart with pure delight
They twinkle and dance on the tree
Making everything look so pretty
I love how they sparkle and gleam
Like a beautiful Christmas dream
Lights make me happy and I feel so warm
Christmas magic is the best form.
